Sumner on Johnson—Personal Relations with the President

Charles Sumner delivered an address at Boston on the 2 1 of October entitled The One Man Power vs Congress a theme admirably adapted to display his peculiar power The speaker was heard by an immense and enthusiastic audience We give that portion of the address which shows what was the nature of Sumner's personal relations and intercourse with Johnson:

The brave words with which he accepted his nomination as Vice President resounded through the country He was elected Then followed two scenes each of which filled the people with despair The first was of the new Vice President taking the oath of office—in the presence of the foreign Ministers the Judges of the Supreme Court and the Senate—while in such a condition that his attempted speech became trivial and incoherent and he did not know the name of the Secretary of the Navy, who is now the devoted supporter of his policy, as he has been his recent traveling companion One month and one week afterward President Lincoln was assassinated The people wrapt in affliction at the great tragedy trembled as they beheld a drunken man ascend the heights of power But they were generous and forgiving—almost forgetful. He was our President and hands were outstretched to welcome and sustain him His early utterances as President, although commonplace loose and wordy gave assurance that the rebellion and its authors would find little favor from him Treason was to be made odious It was at this time that my relations with him commenced, I had known him slightly while he was in the Senate but I lost no time in seeing him after he became President He received me kindly I hope I shall not err if I allude briefly to what passed between us You are my constituents and I wish you to know the mood of the President at that time and also what your representative attempted.

I was in Washington during the first month of the new Administration, destined to fill such an unhappy place in history. During this period I saw the President frequently, sometimes at his office in the Treasury On these occasions the constant topic was reconstruction, which was considered in every variety of aspect. More than once I ventured to press upon him the duty and the renown of carrying out the principles of the Declaration of Independence and of founding the new Governments in the rebel States on the consent of the governed without any distinction of color To this earnest appeal he replied on one occasion as I sat with him alone, in words which I can never forget "On this question, Sumner, there is no difference between us You and I are alike " Need I say that I was touched to the heart by this enunciation, which seemed to promise a victory without a battle Accustomed to controversy I saw clearly that if the President declared himself in favor of equal rights to all, the good cause must prevail without controversy. After expressing to him my joy and gratitude, I remarked still further that it was important that there should be no division in the great Union party—that there should be no line run through it on one side of which there would be gentlemen calling themselves the President s friends but that we should be kept altogether as one seamless garment To this he promptly replied I mean to keep you altogether " Nothing could be better We were kept together on the principle of equal rights As I walked away from the President that evening the battle of my life seemed to be ended, while the republic rose before me, refulgent to the blaze of assured freedom, an example to the nations

On another occasion during the same period, the case of Tennessee was discussed. I expressed the hope most earnestly that the President would use his influence directly for the establishment of impartial suffrage in that State, saying that in this way Tennessee could be put at the head of the returning column and be made an example, in one word, that all the other States would be obliged to dress on Tennessee The President replied that if he were at Nashville, he would see that this was accomplished I could not help rejoining promptly, that he need not not be at Nashville, for at Washington his hand was on the long end of the lever with which he could easily move all Tennessee, referring of course, to the powerful but legitimate influence which the President might exercise in his own State by the expression of his desires. Let me confess that his hesitation on this occasion disturbed me, but I attributed it to an unnecessary caution rather than to any infidelity He had been so positive with me how could I suspect him!

On other occasions the conversation was renewed Such was my interest in the question that I could not see the President without introducing it As I was about to return home I said that I desired, even at the risk of repetition, to make some parting suggestions on the reconstruction of the rebel States and that with his permission I would proceed point by point, as was the habit of the pulpit in former days. He smiled and said pleasantly, "Have I not always listened to you?" I replied, "You have and I am grateful " After remarking that the rebel region was still in military occupation and that it was the duty of the President to use his temporary power for the establishment of correct principles, I proceeded to say First—See to it that no newspaper is allowed which is not thoroughly loyal and does not speak well of the National Government and of equal rights and here I reminded him of the saying of the Duke of Wellington that in a place under martial law an unlicensed press was as impossible as on the deck of a ship-of war Secondly—Let the officers that you send as Military Governors or otherwise be known for their devotion to equal rights, so that their names alone will be a proclamation while their simple presence will help educate the people and here I mentioned General Carl Schurz, who still held his commission in the army as such a person. Thirdly encourage the population to resume the profitable labors of agriculture, commerce and manufactures without delay, but for the president to avoid politics Fourthly keep the whole rebel region under these good influences, and, at the proper time, hand over the subject of reconstruction, with the great question of equal rights, to the judgment of Congress where it belongs All this the President received at the time with perfect kindness and I mention this with the more readiness because I remember to have seen it the papers a very different statement Only a short time afterward there was a change which seemed like a somerset or an apostacy, and then ensued a strange sight Instead of faithful Unionists, recent rebels thronged the Presidential antechamber rejoicing in a new found favor. They made speeches at the President and he made speeches at them A mutual sympathy was manifest On one occasion the President announced himself a ' Southern man with ' southern sympathies thus quickening that sectional flame which good men hoped to see quenched forever Alas ! if after all our terrible sacrifices we are still to have a President who does not know how to spurn every sectional appeal and make himself the representative of all! Unhappily, whatever the President said or did, was sectional He showed himself constantly a sectionalist Instead of telling the ex rebels that thronged the Presidential antechambers as he should have done that he was their friend that he wished them well from the bottom of his heart that he longed to see their fields yield an increase, and peace in all their borders and that to this end he counseled them to devote themselves to agriculture commerce and manufactures and for the present to say nothing about politics, instead of this he sent them away talking and thinking of nothing but politics, and frantic for the re-establishment of a sectional power Instead of designating officers of the army as Military Governors which I had supposed he would do he would do he appointed ex rebels who could not take the oath required by Congress of all officers of the United States and they in turn appointed ex rebels to office under them so that participation in the rebellion found its reward, and treason instead of being made odious became a passport to power Everywhere ex rebels came out of their hiding places They walked the streets defiantly and asserted their old domination Under the auspices of the President a new campaign was planned against the republic and they who failed in open war now sought to enter the very citadel of political power Victory purchased by so much loyal blood and treasure was little better than a cipher. Slavery itself revived in the spirit of caste Unionists who had been trampled down by the rebellion were trampled down still more by these Presidential Governments There was no liberty of the press or liberty of speech, and the lawlessness of slavery began to rage anew

Every day brought tidings that the rebellion was re appearing in its essential essence Amid all professions of submission there was an unmitigable hate to the national Government and a prevailing injustice to the freedmen This was last Autumn I was then in Boston Moved by a desire to arrest this fatal tendency I appealed by letter to members of the Cabinet entreating them to stand firm against a 'policy' which promised nothing but disaster As soon as the elections were over I appealed directly to the President himself by a telegraphic dispatch as follows

BOSTON, November 12 1865

To the President of the United States Washington As a faithful friend and supporter of our Administration I most respectfully petition you to suspend for the present your policy toward the rebel States I would not present this prayer if I were not painfully convinced that thus far it has failed to obtain any reasonable guarantees for security in future which is essential to peace and reconciliation To my mind it abandons the freedmen to the control of their ancient masters and leaves the national debt exposed to repudiation by returning rebels The Declaration of Independence asserts the equality of all men and that rightful government can be founded only on the consent of the governed I see small chance of peace unless these great principles are practically established. Without this the house will continue divided against itself

CHARLES SUMNER
Senator of the United States

On reaching Washington Saturday evening immediately before the opening of the last session of Congress, I lost no time in seeing the President I was with him that evening three hours. I found him changed in temper and purpose How unlike that President, only a few days after his arrival at power, had made me feel so happy in the assurance of agreement on the great questions before the country! He was no longer sympathetic or even kindly, but harsh, petulant and unreasonable. Plainly, his heart was with the ex rebels For the Unionists, white or black, who had borne the burden of the day, he had little feeling Perversely, he would not see the bad spirit of the rebel States, and he insisted that the outrages were not sufficient to justify their exclusion from Congress It was in this connection that the following dialogue ensued The President—" Are there no murders in Massachusetts? " Sumner—' Unhappily, yes, sometimes " The President—' Are there no assaults in Boston ? Do not men there sometimes knock each other down, so that the police is obliged to interfere " Sumner—" Unhappily, yes " The President—' Would you consent that Massachusetts, on this account, should be expelled from Congress? ' Sumner—" No, Mr President I would not ' And here I stopped, without remarking on the irrelevancy of the inquiry I left the President that night with the painful conviction that his whole soul was set as flint against the good cause and that by the assassination of Abraham Lincoln the rebellion had vaulted into the Presidential chair Jefferson Davis was then in the casemates at Fortress Monroe, but Andrew Johnson was doing his work.

"Ah, what avails it
If the galled conqueror receives the chain
And flattery subdues when arms are vain ? "

From this time forward I was not in doubt as to his ' policy," which asserted a condition of things in the rebel region inconsistent with the terrible truth. It was, therefore, natural that I should characterize one of his messages, covering over the enormities there, as "whitewashing " This mild term was thought by some at the time to be too strong Subsequent events have shown that it was too weak The whole region is little better than a "whited sepulcher " It is that saddest of all sepulchers, the sepulcher of human rights The dead men's bones are the remains of faithful Union soldiers, dead on innumerable fields, or stifled in the pens of Andersonville and Belle Island also of constant Unionists white and black, whom we are sacredly bound to protect, now murdered on highways and byways, or slaughtered at Memphis and New Orleans The uncleanliness is injustice, wrong and outrage of the most loathsome character And the President is engaged in ' whiting' over these things so that they shall not be seen by the American people. To do this he has garbled a dispatch of Sheridan, and has abused the hospitality of the country by a traveling speech, where every word that was not foolish, vulgar and vindictive, was a vain attempt at "whitewashing "

Fellow citizens As I am about to close, allow me to gather the whole case into a brief compass The President, wielding the one man power, has assumed a prerogative over Congress utterly unjustifiable, and has undertaken to dictate a fatal 'policy" of reconstruction which gives away to rebels, puts off the blessed day of security and reconciliation and leaves the best interests of the republic in jeopardy Treacherous to party, treacherous to the great cause and treacherous to himself, he has set up individual will against the people of the United States in Congress assembled Forgetful of truth and decency he has assailed members as "assassins," and has denounced Congress itself as a revolutionary body, "called or assuming to be Congress ' and "hanging on the verge of the Government," as if this most enlightened and patriotic Congress did not contain the embodied will of the American people To you, each and all, I appeal to arrest this madness Your votes will be the first step The President must be taught that usurpation and apostacy cannot prevail He who promised to become Moses, and has become Pharaoh must be overthrown, and the Egyptians that follow him must share the same fate, so that it shall be said now as aforetime "And the Lord overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea.'

THE DEVIL TURNED SAINT —Under this head the New York Evening Post publishes the following card of Fernando Wood

NEW YORK, October, 1866

To the Electors of the Ninth Congressional District I present myself to you as a candidate for Representative in Congress

I am not the nominee nor shall I ask to be, of any party, faction or Convention

If elected I shall be as independent as a Representative as I am independent as a candidate.

I would not accept a seat in Congress at this time obtained in any other way

I desire the election as a popular rebuke to those who utter the malicious falsehood, that during the war, I was a "rebel sympathizer" and disunionist , and also to be placed in an official position where unrestrained by partisan obligations I may follow the dictates of my own judgment for the public good

My guide will be the Constitution as understood and explained by the fathers of the republic On those other grave matters which are not defined in that instrument I shall favor a permanent disposition of the unsettled questions affecting the status of the Southern States and people which shall forever remove all sectional or other differences I want the principles determined by the war to be speedily recognized and conformed to so that we may proceed to a serious consideration of the many other interests too long neglected which vitally affect our prosperity We have great national resources yet undeveloped a heavy public debt to liquidate, a grievous burden of taxation to lessen, a depreciated currency to redeem our foreign and domestic commerce to enlarge new enterprises to spon and encourage, and the yet higher obligation to perform of reaching the position which the Almighty designed for us of being the first among the nations of the earth in progress, civilization national prosperity and freedom FERNANDO WOOD

FOREWARNED FOREARMED —The rebel General Wright of Georgia says he was on the committee that drafted the resolutions in the Johnson Philadelphia Convention in favor of duly rewarding Union soldiers and that he took care to have them so worded as not to commit the Government for if the South ever gets into power again all pensions to Union soldiers shall be cut off unless the Confederate soldiers are put on the same footing

STILL IN JAPAN —Anson Burlingame Minister to China was still at Yeddo September 21st but was soon to start for Shanghae Robert B Van Valkenburg, Minister to Japan, had taken charge of the legation

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1866.

Over the Verge.

It would be interesting at this conjuncture to inquire who it is that is hanging as it were on the verge of the Government. An opinion from Washington on this subject, would now in all probability, elicit general attention. As the humble individual who might have been dictator, but contented himself with being a tribune, is now reported to be "as calm as a summer morn," there is little prospect of getting an immediate response from him on the subject. But it may be taken for granted that if there is still a "body on the verge of the Government," that body is not Congress. Nor is it A. Johnson. Let us be charitable. Let no one retort upon him that it is he who is hanging on the verge. No, no. He has gone over it. Over the verge is A. J.,—which letters do not stand for Andrew Jackson.

The result of the elections takes no Unionist by surprise. Yet there is not on this account less cause for gratulation. A recreant President has been taught what it is to receive the condemnation of the people he has betrayed. No President ever before sunk so low in the estimation of the whole country. He has no party. Those who have voted for his policy will not longer remain with him. He has become a mere cipher in the Government, and nobody cares about his opinions or intentions. His effort to whitewash treason cannot be called a success. The majority of half a million in the loyal States for the policy of Congress, means that treason shall be forever odious. It means also that the name of Andrew Johnson is not less odious than treason. The people were appealed to; the verdict is rendered. Patriots may well rejoice and traitors may well tremble.

A Needed Work.

Among the many projected works of improvement necessary for the convenience of the people and the promotion of the business interests of the State, there is none which a reasonable sum of money would so readily complete as a telegraph line from Portland to the Dalles, and thence to Umatilla City and beyond. The cost of a line of telegraph between these points would speedily be more than compensated by the advantages that would be derived from the operation of the line. Telegraphic communication between Portland and points above, has been needed for years, and each succeeding year the want is more sensibly felt. Business is greatly retarded by reason of the absence of this sort of communication. It will readily occur to every one how the construction of this line would be of great advantage both to Portland and to the people—particularly the merchants—of the interior. In winter, for several weeks together, it is often impossible for this place to communicate with points east of the mountains. The telegraph would remedy this difficulty, and in this way communication would be possible when it could be had by no other means. But the chief use of the telegraph would be for the purposes of business during the busy season of the year. Portland could well afford to construct the line for the advantages in trade which it would give her. The capital required would not be large, and might easily be furnished here. Would not some of our enterprising citizens advance both their own interests and the interests of this place and of the communities east of the mountains, by undertaking this work? A line to Umatilla would be the beginning of lines to Salt Lake City and to points in Montana Territory, and certainly ought to be no longer neglected.

The "teacher and representative" of the Democratic party of this State writes the following:

> The Blacks may as well make up their minds that every State in the Union is to be represented in the next Congress, as to wait for the conviction of that fact to be forced upon them at the "point of the bayonet."

By the term "blacks," we suppose this fighting editor means the Unionists. The Unionists are willing, and even anxious that every State shall be represented in the next Congress. Let the unrepresented States take the constitutional amendment and send members who are free from the taint of treason, and they will be represented in the next Congress, or for that matter, in this. But what the "teacher" means, to say is that though the ten States not now in Congress shall reject the amendment, and refuse to comply with the conditions which have been prescribed preparatory to admission, they shall nevertheless be represented in the next Congress; even if the bayonet is resorted to by the Executive to bring them in. What is this editor's purpose in giving expression to this revolutionary sentiment? Does he desire the collision he talks of to occur? Is he anxious to be compelled to decamp from Portland with as quick haste as he once took his departure from San Francisco? Does he want his name to grace another martyrology of Democratic traitors? If the explosion which he is so anxious to witness, and which he is assisting to the extent of his ability to bring about, shall actually occur, he and all men of his kind had better be prepared to "stand from under." Such words as those quoted above directly encourage civil disorder. Has this editor forgotten that it is said that he who sows the wind shall reap the whirlwind?

Gov. Orr, H. V. Johnson, and sundry other Southern politicians have issued an address against the adoption of the constitutional amendment. Missouri, Illinois, Pennsylvania and sundry other Northern States have just issued an address in favor of it.

The dispatches say that the President's organ announces him as being "calm as a summer's morn." We are glad to hear it. After raving as madly as he has for a few months, a little calmness will become him. The calmness of despair even, is better than nothing.

Seward, a short time ago, asked the Northern people how they would have Johnson, "President or King?" The answer has been received. "Neither and not at all," said 220,000 loyal majority, last Tuesday.

Seward said at the Niagara Falls: "If the conservative candidate for Governor of New York is not elected by 50,000 majority, count me out." Where's Seward?

The Star, Johnson's court paper, says the President is confirmed in his patriotic purpose. Allow us to suggest that renewed would have been a better word.

STATE ITEMS.

The Jacksonville postoffice has been designated as a money order office.

An Irishman, named Wilson, has been sent to the Insane Asylum from Jackson county.

A man at Jacksonville, while in the act of foraging on his neighbor's vineyard recently, was shot by the owner, in that region of the person where Jimmy O'Meara received the pistol ball fired by Denlinger.

On Thursday night last says the Sentinel, a difficulty occurred between T. H. B. Shipley and Alf. Owen, and in the fracas, Shipley stabbed Owen in the side—the knife hanging up broke off at the handle. The wounded man will recover.

We are most happy, says the Jacksonville Reporter to note the rapid strides made by our citizens in the way of improving our little town. During our absence buildings have sprung up like mushrooms and others have been enlarged and embellished, while several new business houses have started into life. Truly Jacksonville is the "live" town of the State.

The following is a copy of a letter from Capt. Sprague to the Sentinel dated Fort Klamath, Oct. 30th: "Lieut. Oatman returned to-day; went to Camp Bidwell; was joined by some troops under Lieut. Small, 1st U. S. Cav.; went thence to Lake Alert; found a camp of Snake Indians; fought them; killed fourteen, that were found, but suppose that they must have killed more that were not found; ran the Indians into a cave; could not get them out, but destroyed their winter quarters and subsistence. He had some Klamath Indians with him, who behaved splendidly, and fought like tigers. All-concerned deserve great credit.

The "Humble Individual" Swamped in the "Groundswells."

Massachusetts, 75,000 Majority for the "Revolutionary Congress."

New York, 10,000!

Michigan, 25,000!

Illinois, 40,000.

Wisconsin, 20,000.

Minnesota, 8,500.

Missouri, 30,000.

Radicals Sweep Kansas and Carry New Jersey.

AGGREGATE GAIN OF FOUR UNION CONGRESSMEN.

Maryland and Delaware "Swing Round the Circle."

Massachusetts goes 75,000 Union.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Bullock's majority will reach 75,000. Two colored men are elected to the Massachusetts Legislature—one from Charlestown and one from Boston.

New York Re-elects Gov. Fenton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The latest dispatches from New York dated at 3 o'clock P. M., claims Fenton's election by from 6,000 to 10,000 majority. The Democrats carry 11 Congressional Districts, including Stephen Taber, Thomas Barnes, Wm. E. Robinson, John Fox, John Morrissey, Thos. Stewart, John W. Chanley, James Brooks and Fernando Wood, in the city; also, John V. L. Pruyne in the Albany District, and Humphrey in the Buffalo District. The Republicans carry all the other districts; 20 in number, gaining Wm. H. Robertson in the 10th, Chas. H. Van Wyck in the 11th, and Thos. Cornell in the 13th, to offset the loss of three city districts. Fox beat Greeley only about 950 votes in the 4th district. Mitchell's majority is about 2,400; Brooks' majority 8,000; Chanley's majority 5,009; Fernando Wood's majority over Darling, 1,400. Seline, independent Republican, beats Hunt, in the Rochester District, 1,400. Conklin, Rep., carries the Utica District by 1,500 majority. Humphrey, Dem., carries the Buffalo District by 1,000 majority, beating A. N. Clapp, editor of the Buffalo Express. Hoffman, for Governor, goes up Hudson river about 4,000 ahead, but the returns from the interior make Fenton's election certain. There is also a Republican majority in the Legislature. The World concedes Fenton's election as Governor of New York by 4,000 majority. The Times claims 10,000 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The correct vote of the city is as follows: Hoffman, Dem., 79,352, Fenton, Rep., 33,225; Hoffman's majority 46,127. Kings county, including Brooklyn gives Hoffman 8,338.

ALBANY, Nov. 7.—The Republicans are firing 100 guns.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Returns continue to indicate that Fenton's majority will be 10,000.

Saint's Rest goes Union.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Returns from New Jersey, show that the Republicans carry the Legislature and elect three out of five Congressmen, being a gain of Halsey in the Newark District.

The Times says the Republicans have elected four Congressmen in New Jersey, gaining Halsey and John Hill, who beats Andrew J. Rogers. Turro Gavit is the only Democrat elected from New Jersey.

Maryland Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Baltimore election passed off quietly. The returns indicate that conservatives carry four members of Congress, being all districts except the 5th, where Frank Thomas has over 2,000 majority. Estimates of Maryland Legislature make 36 conservative majority on joint ballot. Either Montgomery Blair or Gov. Swan will be elected Senator vice Creswell.

The Tribune's Baltimore special despatch says the judges of election were so anxious to satisfy the Conservatives, that they allowed anybody to vote without inquiry.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Archer beats John L. Thomas in the 2d District, by 3,000 majority. Chas. E. Philips, Conservative, is elected by 995 majority. The Conservatives carried every Legislative district in the city.

Delaware Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Delaware goes Democratic, but we have no figures.

Michigan goes 25,000 Union.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Michigan gives 25,000 Republican majority and elects six Republican Congressmen.

Wisconsin 18,000 Union Majority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Wisconsin gives about 18,000 Republican majority, and elects 5 Republicans and one Democrat to Congress. General Payne has nearly 50,000 majority in the Milwaukie District. Eldridge, Democrat, has about 3,000 majority in the 4th district.

Illinois Union, by 40,000 Majority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The vote of this city yesterday, was, Republican, 11,246; Democrat, 4,465, making the Republican majority 6,703. Total vote only about one-half of full vote. General Logan has probably 40,000 majority in the State, as Congressman at large. The Legislature stands, Senate—15 Republicans, 10 Democrats; House—53 Republicans, 24 Democrats.

Radicals Sweep Missouri by 25,000 Majority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Missouri gives about 25,000 Radical majority, and includes probably all Radical candidates for Congress. St. Louis gives 2,500 Radical majority. General Pile, Republican, beats Hogan, Democrat, for Congress by 5,000 majority. Frank Blair is elected to the Legislature on the Conservative ticket.

Minnesota, Union, 8,500.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Minnesota gives 8,500 Radical majority. Both Republican Congressmen are re-elected.

Radicals Sweep Kansas.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Returns from Kansas indicate that the Republicans have swept that State.

Union Gain of Four Congressmen.

A recapitulation of elections of members in 19 States shows 130 Republicans to 32 Democrats, with 7 States, including Nevada, to elect 30 members. Republican's thus far make the net gain of 4 members.

News of Abdication of Maximilian Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Mexican despatches via Havana confirm the news that Max. has abdicated.

Destructive Fire.

The North Eastern elevator was burned last night with 160,000 bushels of grain; total loss $450,000; insured for $300,000.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Flour—Dull; common grades 10 @ 12 cts lower.

Wheat—dull at 10 @ 12 cts lower.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Grant Republic, the first vessel of the Pacific Steamship Company's new line, will be launched, probably to-morrow morning. This ship is the largest and finest ever built in the United States.

Further from the Elections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Later returns do not alter the figures of the election. Fenton has from 8,000 to 12,000 majority, with an increased Republican majority in the legislature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Charles Haight, Democrat, is elected in the second district, beating Wm. A. Newall 200 votes. This makes the delegation 12 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Partial returns from Illinois show a Republican gain of 11,300, and 11 Congressmen certain, while both parties claim the 11th district. The Fenians either voted for Logan, or did not vote at all, which accounts for a decrease of 10,000 Democratic votes in Chicago, and equally surprising results elsewhere.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The New Jersey Legislature is Republican in both branches, securing a Republican Senator vice Wright, who deceased a few days since.

The Democratic majority in Delaware is about 10,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—St. Louis special dispatches estimate the Radical majority in Missouri at 30,000, with all the Congressmen and two-thirds of the Legislature, securing the election of Charles D. Drake to the Senate vice Brown. Frank Blair had only 5 majority for the Legislature, and his seat will be contested.

The Times' Washington special dispatch says that the elections will not change the President from his policy.

Washington special dispatches state that the Washington Star of last evening, the President's organ, says the President is calm and quiet as a summer morn, and the result of the election only confirms him more strongly in his patriotic purpose and policy.

Gen. John McNeil telegraphs from St. Louis that the President might retain his commission as Surveyor of St. Louis, as he had been elected Sheriff by 400 majority.

John L. Thomas and James J. Steward, Radical candidates for Congress in Baltimore, will contest the election.

The Legislature of Illinois was instructed for Senators Trumbull and Howe.

The Madison Journal estimates 20,000 majority in Wisconsin and three-fourths of the Legislature.

Charles L. Wilson, the colored man elected to the Massachusetts Legislature, 6th District, Boston, was a printer, and lost one leg before Richmond. The Ward is one of the aristocracy in Boston, and the residence of ex-Gov. Andrews.

An Address from Southern Politicians.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Prominent Southern politicians, including Orr and Perry, of South Carolina, Gov. Jenkins, Alex Stephens and H. V. Johnson, Senators elect from Georgia, publishes an address official or voluntary against ratifying the Constitutional Amendment.

The New York Herald states the Issue.

The New York Herald says the issue is, will the insurrectionary States accept the Constitutional Amendment or wait for Gen. Grant.

Tennessee Legislature—Treasury Statements.

The Tennessee Legislature met yesterday without a quorum.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The treasury statement shows a reduction of twenty-two million in the public debt during October, with ninety-nine and a half million coin and thirty millions in currency, on hand on the 1st of November. The estimated revenue from all sources during the present fiscal year, is six hundred million.

Bank of England Receipts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A cable message from London yesterday says the Bank of England had received during the month ending Friday, $999,000 in bullion.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The Fenian trials in Toronto, continue. John Darwin was yesterday sentenced to be hanged on the 15th of December. Several others have been acquitted, including an Episcopal Minister, (Lumsden), who was proven to have been on a drunken spree at Buffalo, and not responsible for his action. New trials have been demanded for Col. Lynch and Father McMahon.

Expected Departure of Minister Campbell and Gen. Sherman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Susquehanna, now in Brooklyn Navy Yard, is nearly ready to depart for Vera Cruz, with Minister Campbell and Gen. Sherman, who expect to proceed direct to the City of Mexico to assist the Liberal Government. There does not appear to be any doubt but that Maximilian has quit. Instructions were sent to Gen. Sheridan last Saturday to notify Juarez of the expected arrival of Campbell and Sherman, who will leave probably on Saturday. Gen. Sherman will only remain in Mexico until the Juarez Government is established, but his presence is desirable in order that the U. S. troops may be promptly ordered to co-operate, in case of need for their services. Edward Lee Plum has received the appointment of Secretary of Legation at Mexico.

Foreign.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A recent Constantinople letter gives the following account of the eastern question: There is now no prospect of the re-opening of the eastern question in general. There will be active interference in favor of the Christians in Candia, but it will be with the object of putting off the eastern question, not of opening it. England and France are urgent upon this point. Neither of those Powers are ready for any general clearing out in Turkey, but both fear that Russia would gain what was lost by Turkey, and both are of opinion that Russia is strong enough already. If Lord Lyons had been removed to Paris, as was reported last week, it would have given color to the report of M. Moustier to European powers, especially as he has just been called from Constantinople to be Minister of Foreign Affairs of France. M. Moustier is really opposed to any renewal of the eastern question. This is so well known here that when he went to Athens, on his way to Paris, the mob would have torn him to pieces if they had dared to do so. As it was, they howled and hissed at him, cursed him and called him every name known in the Greek or French vocabulary.

Russia is doing what it can both there and in Europe to compel the Great Powers to make up the sick man's case, for she has everything to gain and nothing to lose in the settlement of this question. The Russian Ambassador here is untiring in his efforts to stir up a difficulty in European Turkey to encourage the Candians and to force the question upon England and France. It is true also that Russian agents here and elsewhere are doing everything in their power to bring the United States into the question. All the stories about the United States Government desiring to purchase an island on the coast of Turkey are originally from this source, and our Government knows very well that one of the most desirable islands for a naval station is at our disposal whenever we choose to accept it as a free gift. The people do not give away islands without an object, however, and in this case the object is to make the power of the United States felt in Greece and Turkey. The Turks are already alarmed about the United States, and are on the point of sending an Embassy to the United States to cultivate friendly relations and head off the Russian Embassy. The announcement of this intention has caused great excitement in Greece where it is proposed to send a Greek Ambassador to the United States, at once to neutralize the effect of the Turkish Embassy.

NEWS BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Consols, 89¼; Five-Twenties, 68½. Great Britain has withdrawn her legation from Saxony by agreement with Prussia. It is said preparations are quietly progressing in Ireland to meet a probable Fenian rising. It is said insurrection in Candia has ended. The Czar of Russia has formally recognized Hospodan Roumania.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The eastern line is again working, but nothing has been received for the papers.

Letters from President Juarez announce the arrival at Chihuahua of sixty American officers who would be immediately assigned to service in the loyal army of Mexico.

The opposition steamer Moses Taylor from San Juan Del Sur, where she connected with the steamer San Francisco leaving New York Oct. 16th, arrived here early this morning.

The damage from the fire on Market street yesterday will amount to $15,000. Riley & Vest estimate their loss at $8,000. R. Whitebeck, successor to Demming & Flynn, places his loss at $4,000, while the building belonging to James Cunningham was damaged to the amount of $1,500. The only insurance was upon $3,500 on the stock of Riley & Vest.

James Sullivan, who stole the gold dust from a fellow passenger on board the steamer Pacific at Astoria, was this morning held to answer before the county court.

Daniel Findser, a fisherman, was drowned in the Bay yesterday.

From July, 1865, to July, 1866, there were in this city thirty-seven well ascertained cases of incendiarism, four first of which were supposed to be incendiary and two attempts at incendiarism. The property destroyed amounted in value to $80,000.

G. B. Lansing, the ex-quartermaster, charged with selling spurious vouchers of the Government, has been held to answer before the county court.

Capt. Max Trask, for many years an officer in the employ of the Central American Transit Company on the Isthmus, died on the river San Juan in Nicaragua, on the 17th ult. He was 31 years old.

Catherine Hallingshead was taken to the Stockton Insane Asylum last evening.

The ship Cutwater, 145 days from New York, arrived to-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The charge of bigamy against Alexander Harned, who was arrested some days since, has been dismissed, the testimony not sustaining the complaint.

Two of the steerage passengers, names not given, of Santiago de Cuba and Moses Taylor were drowned while crossing Nicaragua, by becoming intoxicated and falling overboard.

George Seymour, third officer of the steamship Moses Taylor, died on board that vessel October 29th, of heart disease. Deceased was thirty three years of age and a native of Baltimore, Maryland.

The Yellow Jacket Silver Mining Company has declared a dividend of $75 to the foot, and the Empire Mill and Mining Company a dividend of $6 per share or $96 per foot.

Flour—A still further advance. The rise since August 1st is fully $1 ₩ bbl or ½ per cent. Superfine hf sacks ₩ 100 lbs, $5 75@6; qr sacks, $6@6 25; extra hf sacks, $6 25@6 50; qr sacks, $6 50@6 75.

Wheat—The market is rather quiet; good, $2; choice, $2 50 per 100 lbs.

Barley—Ordinary feed, 90c ₩ 100 lbs.

Oats—Fair, $1 31½ ₩ 100 lbs.

Potatoes—Petaluma, 65; Lighthouse, 90c ₩ 100 lbs.

Private telegrams of yesterday received last evening quote gold in New York at 141¼, while those of to-day's date received this morning, name 146 as the price; Sterling 109¼. Legal tenders are quoted at 70¾ buying and 70⅞ selling. The demand for exchange and bullion for Saturday's steamer opens very quiet, and the shipment hence promises to be light. Leading bankers quote coin drafts on Atlantic cities at 2½ ₩ cent., currency drafts 40 ₩ cent. premium on gold. Telegraphic transfers 2¾ ₩ cent.; exchange 49. Gold bars rule at $33@840, and silver do. at 1¼@1½ ₩ cent discount, with light inquiry. Mexican dollars 6 ₩ cent. premium.

Stock Market.

Mining stocks irregular and rather quiet. Sales of California Steam Navigation Co. at 63; Spring Valley Water Co. at 61.

Shipping.

Arrived—Nov. 8, British bark Charlotta Andrews, 66 days from Sydney, coal.

Sailed—Nov. 7, ship Lookout, Boston.

If Johnson still persists in his policy, as the Times and Star say he will, he will stand simply in the attitude of a stubborn rogue who refers his quarrel to an umpire of his own choosing and then refuses to abide the decision because against him.

The Confederates have at last captured Maryland. "My Maryland" is no longer the unrealized dream of the Confederate poet. But Maryland will yet be redeemed.

NICE.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 60 First St., notwithstanding the sifting rain, continue to execute these magnificent PHOTOGRAPHIC PICTURES, which excel all others for beauty and durability. Chemistry has demonstrated the fact, and the proprietors of this establishment possess the secret, that pictures can be taken just as well whether it rains or shines. The public will please bear this in mind.

THE FACT IS, that Messrs. KOHN & FISHEL are constantly receiving and selling, at strictly SAN FRANCISCO PRICES, large assortments of the LATEST and MOST FASHIONABLE styles of Ready Made Clothing. Their store, No. 111 Front street, is filled from cellar to loft with Gents' Clothing, and requiring still more room, they are disposing of their stock of DRY GOODS AT PRICES FAR BELOW COST.

FROM IDAHO.

We clip the following from the Idaho Times of the 30th ult

MINING NEWS

Mr Van Wyck returned on Saturday last from a flying visit to Alturas county He informs us that the Confederate Star company are taking out very rich ore from their mine and contemplate starting the Cariee mill in a few days to crush the rock The Idaho Company put their mill in motion during the last week, and reported a clean up of $15 000 Col O Neal has charge of the Benson mill which he intends starting in a few days on ore from some of the best ledges in that vicinity The Bonaparte Hill mines look encouraging The ore tested by experienced parties both at Rocky Bar and Idaho City resulted beyond expectations Preparations for the winter is the general order of the day in Alturas

The Enterprise Tunnel Company have contracted with a party of miners to run 300 feet of their tunnel at $4 per foot

The following items are from a Pioneer City letter of October 28th

Elter, Morrill & Co's shaft, on Orleans Bar, has been abandoned. After reaching a depth of 105 feet a large vein of water stopped their further progress They found better prospects where they quit work, but no bed rock

The Big Muddy lodge, about two miles north of Hog'em, is eight feet wide Five different assays of the rock averaged $701 to the ton

Stock in the "Elkhorn" is looking up

The "Native American" prospects three dollars to the pan of decomposed quartz

The roads over the Blue Mountains are very bad. Snow at some places is three feet deep

CALIFORNIA ITEMS.

According to Judge Underhill's ruling there is no Police Court legally in existence in Stockton

The new Methodist Church in Santa Clara was dedicated on the 28th It costs about $19,000.

The extension of Montgomery street, San Francisco, toward the Potrero, is being agitated

B, N. Bugby, of the Natoma Vineyard, Sacramento county, will this year produce 15 000 gallons of wine and 3,000 gallons of brandy

The Amador Dispatch says one O'Brien, who was accidently shot some weeks ago, is fast recovering This is a very remarkable case, the patient having been shot in the stomach, and some days afterwards vomited shot and wadding

The Montana, on the 30th, took 2,000 sacks of wheat—100 tons—for New York. This is a fact of the highest moment to the people of this coast If wheat is high enough in New York to cover the Isthmus transit now, what will it be before the next harvest? The storms at the East have destroyed much grain, and the price has been continually rising

A recent account from San Diego, in the Southern part of this State, says Cattle buyers are very thick in and around this town, quite a number of whom are Frenchmen. Prices of beef cattle are therefore pretty high, and with no prospect of being cheaper. Philip Crosthwhite, known to everybody who has ever resided in these parts, has just sold some 200 head of picked cattle at the high price of $23 and $25 each

PERRY DAVIS PAIN KILLER —We have often spoken of this medicine in terms of very high praise and we have as often felt that all we could say in its favor would not do it justice It is one of those medicines of which we can speak—and speak decisively—from experience for we have repeatedly taken it, and invariably with the best results and the greatest satisfaction We always keep it on hand, ready for an emergency, and we regard it as not only one of the very best and most reliable of medicines in use for various ills, but as one of the cheapest also. Its cost, by the way—that is the cost of all the ingredients of which it is composed—has been considerably increased, but the price of the medicine has been but very little advanced It is not likely that the popularity of Davis Pain Killer will in any measure decrease, or that the demand for it will in the slightest degree decline, until some other specific for allaying pain and curing the various complaints for which it is so generally used, shall be discovered, of equal potency with it—of which there seems to be little probability As a remedy for stomach complaints, such as dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., the Pain Killer is without doubt unsurpassed, and everywhere most deservedly in demand. One, two, or three doses of a teaspoonful each, in a wine-glass of milk and water, with a little sugar have repeatedly, within our knowledge, effectually cured serious trouble of this kind. Judgment should undoubtedly be used in not checking certain stages of diarrhœa too suddenly but taken at the proper time, the Pain Killer will act like a charm, and frequently cure when nothing else will —Providence Advertiser

HOPE ON, HOPE EVER!—Newell's Pulmonary Syrup never fails of giving immediate relief when taken for all difficulties of the chest and lungs, such as asthma, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, hemorrhage, or bleeding of the lungs, and consumption. Don't fail to use the above named remedy, it you would be relieved at once.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works:

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866.

To THE OREGON IRON WORKS

Gentlemen —The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests no repairs have been required

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

BY MISS MULOCK.

Stars trembling o'er us and sunset before us,
Mountains in forest and shadow asleep;
Down the dim river we float on forever—
Speak not, ah, breathe not, there's peace on the deep.

Come not, pale Sorrow—flee till to-morrow;
Rest softly falling o'er eyelids that weep;
While down the river we float on forever—
Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

As the waves cover the depths we glide over,
So let the past in forgetfulness sleep,
While down the river we float on forever—
Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

Heaven shines above us, bless all that love us,
All whom we love in thy tenderness keep!
While down the river we float on forever—
Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

[Written for the Toledo Blade.]

POST OFFIS, CONFEDERATE X ROADS,
(Wich is in the Stait of Kentucky),
October 1, 1866.

President Johnson, who has been likened to Andrew Jaxon, and wich, since my appintment, I conside him to be, in many particlers his superior, requested me and William H. Seward (his Secretary and Chaplain), to draw up and publish to the Democrisy of the various States holding elections this Fall, an address, or rather an appeal, firmly believin that had he extendid his tour to Maine, and isshood an address to em, that that State wood not hev gone ez it did. William refoozed to take part in the appeal, sayin that it worn't uv no use, and so the dooty devolved upon me.

Democrats and Conservatives uv the North: Apprehendin the gravity uv the isshoo, I address you. The signs uv the times is ominus. A Radikle Congress, elected durin the time when the Southin States, wich comprises roely all the intelleck uv this people, didn't take no part in the elecshen, being too bizzy gettin out uv Sherman's way to open polls; a Congress, I repeat, in wich there aint no Southin man, and wich consekently kant by any stretch uv the human imaginashen, be constitooshenal, hez dared to thwart the President uv the United States, and set up its will agin his'n! I need skarcely recount its highhanded acts uv usurpashen. It passed a bill givin rites to niggers, wich ackordin to Scripter (see Onesimus, Ham and Hager, the only three texts in Scripter uv any partikeler account), and the yoosages uv the Democrisy, aint got no rites, and the President exercisin the high prerogatives put into his hands by the constitooshen, vetoed it. Here the matter should have endid. He had expressed, in a manner strictly constitutional, his objecshens to the measure, and proper regard for his feelins and just deference for his opinions, ought to hev indicated the right course. Here was peace offered this Congress. Here wuz the tender uv a olive branch. The President didn't want a quarrel with Congress—he didn't desire a continyoance uv the agitashun wich had shook the country like a Illinois ager, but he desired Peese. Congress cood hev hed it, hed they withdrawd their crood noshuns uv what wuz rite and what wuz wrong—ratified, ez they shood hev dun, sich laws ez the President saw fit to make—in short, hed they follered the correct rool when we hev a Demokratic President, and put the Government in his hands, with an abidin trust in his rectitood and wisdom, we might hev avoided this struggle and thus wood hev bin peaceful. But this reckless Congress, bent on consentratin power in its hands instid uv dividin it between him and Seward, passed the bill over his head! regardless uv his feelins! The responsibility for the dissension rests, therefore, with Congress.

But these questions are altogether too hefty for the Democratic intellek, and I fling em out for the considerashun uv the few Post Masters we get from the Union ranks. To Dimocrisy I address myself more partikerly.

Do you want to marry a nigger? This ishoo is agin before yoo. Are you in favor of elevatin the Afrikin to a posishen where he kin be yoor ekal or perhaps yoor sooperior? That ishoo is agin before yoo for yoor decision, only the danger to yoo is increased. The matter has become threatening—for disgise it ez we may, thousands uv em kin read, and they are akumulatin property and wearin good clothes to a extent trooly alarmin to the Dimokratic mind. We hev alius consoled ourselves with the soothin reflection that there was a race lower down in the scale uv humanity than us—shall we continue to enjoy that comfort? That's the question for every Dimokrat to consider when he votes this Fall. Remove the weight uv legal disability, and ten to one ef they don't outstrip us even, and then where are we goin to look for a race to look down upon. It's a close thing atween us now, and ez we uv this generation can't elevate ourselves, why for our own peace uv mind we must, I repeat it, must pull them down.

Again then I repeat: Do you want to marry a nigger? Your daughters wusn't carried banners onto wich wuz inskribed that trooly Dimokratic motto, "White husbands or none!" and in consequence, they've bin mostly livin in the enjoyment uv none—are they to go back on that holy determinashen to preserve the Angle-Saxon race on this continent in its purity? Do you want the nigger—the big buck nigger—the flat-footed nigger—the wooly-headed nigger—the long-heeled niger—the bow-legged nigger—the NIGGER—to step aside uv yoo and to exercise the prerogatives uv freemen in this country? Do you want the nigger aforesed to be mayors uv your towns, with all the hatred they hev towards us? What chance, oh Dimokratic dweller in cities, think yoo you'd hev if hauled up afore a nigger mayor on a charge of disorderly conduct? Wat chance wood your children hev in a skool uv wich all the teachers wuz niggers? Wat chance wood yoo hev wen arrested for small misdemenors afore nigger Judges?

How, let me ask, in the name of High Heaven wood yoo like to be tried for hoss stealin before a nigger joory?

"But," say some of yoo who sat ravin by drums and flags and sich, went off violently into the war and wuz, perhaps, saved from starvin by niggers, "these niggers wuz our friends in the late war; they fought agin the South!"

O! wat a delosion! O! wat blindness! Troo they did, and that shows the danger that's afore us—that lifts the fog from the precipice onto wich we are standin, and shows us our danger. What does this fact prove? It proves the onreasonableness of the nigger—his discontentedness with the posishen to wich nacher assigned him, and his cussid disposition to upset the normal condition. The Bible makes him a servant unto his brethren (see Ham, Hager and Onesimus, three blessed texts). Science proves him to be not a man but a beast, and so take him as we may, either ez our brother or ez a beast, and Dimocrisy, with that liberality wich has allus distinguished it, gives every man his choice wich theory to take, his condition is servitood. But he, with a cussedness, a perversity wich I good never understand, flies into the face uv the Divine decree, flies into the face uv science, and asserts his independence—turned agin in many instances, his own parents (in these instances for convenience the parents adopted the brethren theory) and for an abstract idea fought agin em. That restlessness under bonds alarmed the Democratic mind. We who owned em under the skripter (see Onesimus, Hager and Ham), and under the eternal laws of scientific truth wuz content with the arrangement, and why shood they not hev bin? Things was normal. They worked and we eat, and of they hed bin content with this ekitable division of the labor uv life all wood hev bin smooth to-day.

Their takin part agin us in the South and in favor uv the Federals, is, instead uv a cos uv feelin good toward em, a source uv oneasiness—instid uv bein a reason for elevatin uv em, its my principal reason for depressin uv em. Sich onsettled minds shood be quieted—this itchin to raise theirselves shood be crushed out uv em that Science and Holy Writ (see Onesimus, Hager and Ham), may be vindicated.

Shel we desert Andrew Johnson after all the trouble he has bin to in gettin back to us? Shel we elect a Congres this Fall so soaked in Ablishin—so filled with objeckshuns to our Southern brethren ez to refooze to receive em back into the seats which they vacated? Consider! The Southern Dimokracy hevn't and don't lay up nothin agin yoo. They are willin to forgive and forget. They failed, but they are willin to forgive the cause of the failyoor. They hevn't got the Government they wanted, but they find no fault with that, but are wilin to take charge of the wun they hev bin compelled to live under. Kin they offer fairer? The fate of war wuz agin em; buryin all hard feelins they extend to us Chrischen charity and say here we are—take us—give us our old places. They have bin chastened—their household gods hev bin destroyed and their temples torn down. Wun neighbor uv mine lost two sons in the Confederit army; another son which he hed refoozed $1,500 for in 1860, he wuz compelled to shoot, coz he wuz bound to run away into the Fedral army, and two octoroons which he hed a dozen times refoosed $2,500 fer, each, in Noo Orleans, he saw layin dead on the steps uv a skool-house in Memphis. Hez he suffered nothing? And yet he is willin to take a seat in Congress—forgettin all he hez suffered, and forgivin the cause thereof. What wickedness it is, which would further bruise sich a broken reed.

Therefore, ez yoo love yourselves and hate the nigger, I implore yoo to act. Take your choice uv the platforms uv the different States—vote ez a Johnson Unionist or ez a Democratic Johnsonian—but vote.

Kentucky holds out her hands appealingly! Kentucky implores yoo to build up a bulwark North uv the Ohio river to save what little is left uv ure Dimocracy there! Kentucky will back yoo in your endeavors. Will you heed her cry? Shal she appeal in vain? Forbid it Hevin.

The Two Andrews.

Those persons who have been longest acquainted with the President of the United States think that his character has been affected by his name. As the third Napoleon emulates the first; as the little Prince Alfred may well emulate the great King Alfred, so Andrew Johnson, it is said, has been haunted, since his public life begun, by a desire to renew the career of Andrew Jackson. It is the fame of the first Andrew which will not let the second sleep. The materials for a parallel are not many, but they are striking. It does not appear that President Jackson was ever an Alderman, but like President Johnson he was born of Scotch or Irish blood, in Carolina. President Johnson, on the other hand, was never a drummer boy in the revolution. But still like Andrew Jackson, he did live in Tennessee. President Johnson never, like President Jackson, served his country in the field, but for all that, and this was till just now the most striking analogy, his name was Andrew.

If this hypothesis of the persons of whom we speak is true, had the President fortunately been named Simon or Philip, he would have been the first of living men. The steady, kind, firm hand by which the rebel States could have been held in order would never have been relaxed, and no sudden twitches on the bit would ever have been necessary. Willing to lead a great nation—not supposing that the fame of a leader requires him to quarrel with all his friends—President Simon Johnson would, at this hour, probably, have seen the thirty-six States in harmonious accord. The Southern States would be receiving the capital and industry for which they are praying. They would have resumed their relations with the Government on the terms which the several authorities of the Government laid down. And the one man who in history, and through the world, would be identified with this easy and peaceful progress, would have been the President of the United States.

But his name was Andrew. And the passion to be like Andrew Jackson, independent and alone, has never left him. Even when Davis and the other Senators left the Senate, he must stand alone. And again, when such an accord of the loyal States as never supported American statesman since Washington honored him, in spite of all angeries, with their sympathy and strength, he must stand alone. "I am the State." "I am the Government." "I represent the people." Such aphorisms—borrowed from Roman Tribunes, from Louis XIV, and from the first Andrew—seem to be the basis of "my policy" as announced by the second.

A very curious coincidence has now taken place, which will strengthen this view. The military fame of these two Presidents will henceforth rest on the two battles of New Orleans. This second battle and the first have some traits, indeed, of resemblance. In each the victors escaped almost unharmed. In each the conquered left hardly a man to tell their story. True, in the first battle of New Orleans, Andrew Jackson was on the field; in the second, Andrew Johnson was a thousand miles away. But the magic of modern science is such that he was able, from a distance, to compel the horrid chaos, and, more than any man living, he may claim all the honors of the conquest.

In the first battle the English attacked Andrew Jackson's lines. He drove them back with terrible carnage, yet lost but six of his own friends. More fortunate than he, Andrew Johnson can look on a massacre in which, while his own friends attacked a crowd of men who had barricaded the doors of their council room, the attacking party escaped without a wound. Such honor as a military leader may claim by pleading the safety of those who serve him is all his own.

Unfortunately for the parallel, the enemies of Andrew Jackson were the enemies of his country. The men whom Andrew Johnson's forces killed were their own fellow citizens. The troops who withered before Andrew Jackson's fire fought under the red cross of England. unarmed citizens who died under the shots of the New Orleans police waved the flag of truce, which most savages respect, and the stars and stripes of America. The safety of Andrew Jackson's army was due to skill of his arrangements. Andrew Johnson's friends were safe because they attacked men without weapons, who had no intention of fighting. The dead whom the victors buried after the first battle were soldiers who had taken the risks of fight, and died as they had meant their enemies should die. The corpses carried now to funeral are those of private citizens, who had met, as American citizens used to do, for open consultation on their duties to their country.

To these differences history will add that the first battle of New Orleans made a President of the United States—that the second unmade one.

The Late Mormon Murder.

The following account of the late atrocious murder at Salt Lake City is from the Vedette of the 24th of October:

Yesterday morning the city was again startled on the announcement that another horrid, bloody assassination and most brutal murder had been committed in one of the most public streets the night before. Dr. John King Robinson, a prominent and most estimable citizen, was slain within a half block of his residence, three doors from Independence Hall. The facts, as nearly as we have been able to gather them from trustworthy sources, are briefly these: On Monday night about half-past eleven o'clock, Dr. Robinson was roused from his slumbers by a man who came to his residence and informed him that John Jones, (an acquaintance of the Doctor's), living on the State road, had broken his leg and required surgical aid immediately, "as," said the unknown caller, "his leg's all smashed to thunder." The Doctor's young wife objected to his going out so late, as threats had been made against his life in anonymous letters, in consequence of the fact that he had a short time since instituted a suit against the city for the recovery of the Warm Sulphur Springs, claimed by both the Doctor and the city. He, however, hastily threw on his clothes and told the man to go ahead and he would shortly see Jones. The man replied "No"—he would wait for and accompany him. Mrs. Robinson, however, was unable to prevail on her husband to shirk the call of humanity, and the murderer and his victim passed out into the night.

A very few minutes after, a shot was heard, but Mrs. R. and the inmates of the house did not suspect what it meant. Chas. King, J. Wimmer and Col. Kahn were sitting in their room conversing, their house being on the block next east of that on which Dr. R. resided. At the hour named they heard a piercing, wild shriek, and immediately afterwards heard a pistol shot. Starting to their feet, they raised the window, and the moon being nearly at its full, and the night almost as bright as day, they saw three men run up the street from the direction of the corner of Main and Third South streets. They passed out into the street and towards the corner. Nothing was to be seen, and they were about returning home, when the thought suggested itself that further search might disclose something. Crossing Main street westwardly, they found the body of a man prone on the earth, with a cut across the forehead and a pistol ball through the head. Others came up, and as they gazed upon the upturned face of the murdered man, it was discovered to be Dr. Robinson. Although still breathing, he was insensible, and was borne by kind hands to Independence Hall, a short distance from the scene. It was nearly an hour afterwards that it was deemed prudent to alarm the family. Dr. William Tait (the late partner of Dr. Robinson,) Surgeon J. M. Williamson, and Dr. Anderson were summoned, but human aid was of no avail, and the murdered man breathed his last at about three o'clock A. M., in the presence of his friends and horror-stricken family.

Yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, Justice Clinton held a Coroner's inquest on the body, and an examination was begun with a view to elicit any information tending to point out the murderers. Judge Titus adjourned the District Court, and the members of the bar generally were present at Independence Hall, where the inquest was held.

Major Blair, Prosecuting Attorney, appeared for the people, assisted by Major Hempstead, U. S. Attorney, and Hosea Stout, City Attorney. The following venire was returned as jurors in the case: James Townsend, James Hague, S. D. Sorrine, W. W. Henry, J. B. Kimball and C. M. Barret. Major Blair peremptorily challenged James Townsend, and Nelson Boukofsky was put in the box in his stead.

Drs. Tait and Williamson and Post Surgeon Hamilton were then called to the stand, and testified that deceased came to his death by the wounds inflicted. The body, disclosing a most horrifying sight when exposed to view, was examined by the jury. There was one deep gash over the left forehead, two inches in length, produced by a heavy blow from a hatchet, bowie-knife, or other sharp instrument; another on the back and left side of the head; two stabs under the left eye and a gunshot wound under the left eye, ranging upwards and passing through the skull, distending the skin behind the right ear. The post mortem examination discovered the ball, a large sized slug, such as would come from a heavy revolver or large derringer pistol. The surgeons testified that the gunshot wound was necessarily fatal and produced death. The inquest was adjourned till to-day at 2 o'clock, at the City Hall.

We have no heart to comment on this bloody drama. A good, an exemplary, a highly respected citizen, has been most cruelly slain in the very heart of a city of 20,000 inhabitants, on a night almost as bright as day, waylaid and butchered by three or more, and the assassins escape.

It would be the sheerest hypocrisy to attempt to disguise that this outrage has not merely cast a gloom, but a thrill of horror and a deep, outspoken feeling of distrust and insecurity among the entire so-called Gentile part of the community. When such a man as Dr. Robinson, who is believed to have had no personal enemy in the country, can be coldly and murderously waylaid and shot down by a band of assassins, what citizen can avoid the feeling that his turn may come next? These feelings find expression on every hand, and a thousand rumors and suspicions are afloat, arising out of the circumstances of this case.

We refrain from commenting further at this time, in the hope, feeble as it may be, that the investigation to-day may develop facts rather than suspicions. The inquiry is on every tongue, if the civil authorities cannot give protection to our citizens, and assassinating of our best citizens cannot be punished. Will the Government stand idle until our streets run with blood? A heavy load of responsibility rests somewhere for these repeated outrages, and this last crowning act of iniquity has stirred the sensibilities and horror of the Gentile community. Are citizens to be marked for slaughter and crime run riot in our midst, without hope, without redress?

The Paris Patrie of September 13th has the following in relation to the rumored cession of an island in the Gulf of Ægina to the United States:

A Vienna journal belives that France has protested at Constantinople against the cession of an island in the Archipelago to the United States. We know not if this news be true, but it may be remembered that about a year since a rumor was in circulation to the effect that the United States Government was about to purchase an island in the Mediterranean, and the press of New York considered it highly probable. The Government of Washington represented that it was necessary for it to possess an island in the interior sea of Europe, in order to establish a naval station for the protection of the number of American vessels which the approaching opening of the Suez canal would attract to that region. It added that the direct commerce of America with the ports of the Levant was important enough to justify the stationing of ships of war in the Mediterranean, and that they would require a place to refit and a coaling station under the protection of the national flag. All these allegations are open to question. It is evidently to support them that the United States have just sent two of their ironclads to one of the ports of the Isle of Candia, under the pretext that the Candiates had signed an address to President Johnson praying him to assume the protectorate of the island. It would thus appear that the Government of Washington, so sensitive to its own rights, or what it believes to be such, pursues exactly the same policy of encroachment with which it reproaches Europe in Mexico, Peru and Chile.

Miscellaneous.

CIRCULAR

To the Officers and Soldiers Oregon Volunteers.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SALEM, Oct. 23, 1866.

BY RECENT ACTS OF CONGRESS ALL OFFICERS of the Volunteer Service who were in Commission March 3d, 1865, and subsequently mustered out after April 9th, 1865, are entitled to three months extra pay proper.

Enlisted men are entitled to additional bounty in certain cases, by Acts of Congress of July 28th, 1866, and the following rules and regulations, together with the form of application adopted by the War Department, are published for the guidance and benefit of all concerned.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, September 16, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards, etc., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war," who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which those heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War.

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.

HENRY STANBERY,
September 15, 1866. Attorney General.

The foregoing rules and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.
By order of the Secretary of War.

E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General.

THE PUBLIC ARE IMPOSED UPON REGARDING the article of Coffee, as inferior grades are being imported constantly from California. In order to prevent imposition, purchasers should always inquire for the Fresh Ground Java & and Chartres Coffee, put up at the Manufactory of J. F. JONES & CO., Proprietors of the Steam Coffee and Spice Mills, corner of Yamhill and Second streets, Portland, Oregon.

We manufacture the following articles in accordance with the most recent scientific process known, and warrant every package bearing our name to be equal to the best in this or any other market:

Chartres, Java and Rio Coffee, Alspice, Cloves, Pepper, Cinnamon, Ginger and Mustard.

For sale by all the leading wholesale and retail merchants in the city at manufacturer's prices.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE NEW LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene, corner of Morrison and First streets.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and Europe, a selection of the best articles appearing in the DAILY OREGONIAN,—full and reliable news from the State, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable, especially in matters pertaining to Oregon interests. Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

FROM BIG BEND.—Mr. W. L. Wade of Walla Walla, who has spent the summer in the Big Bend mines, arrived in this city last night, and furnishes us the following facts in relation to those mines: He says that about one thousand men have been in the mines of French creek, McCulloch's creek, Carnes' creek and on the bars of the Columbia between Gold and Carnes' creeks. Very few men have made expenses. The only creeks that have paid anything worth speaking of are French and McCulloch's, which are tributaries of Gold creek. On all the streams upon which gold has been discovered, the bed rock is so deep that it cannot be reached without better appliances for protection against water. The number of men there a month ago was probably not more than two hundred and fifty, as at an election at which nearly everybody voted, only two hundred and twenty-seven votes were cast. Mr. W. says that more than three-fourths of all the men who came down on the boat when he did, came as dead-heads, by force, having no means of paying their passage. A few men will winter there, and perhaps another season be able to reach the bed rock in their claims, when all feel confident they will obtain big pay.

COUNTY COURT—MARQUAM JUDGE.—In County Court yesterday, P. G. Stewart was appointed guardian of the estate of G. L. and Margaret Stewart, heirs at law of Wm. Curtis, deceased ....In the matter of S. B. Rinehart, guardian of Lelia Rinehart, an order was issued for the sale of lot 6 in block 27, situated in the town of Roseburg, southern Oregon.....Before the Commissioners, In the matter of the excess collected on the sale of certain lands for taxes, the sum of $15 21 was ordered paid to Wm. Nickum.....In the matter of the change of road running through the land claim of James B. Stevens, Jas. Anderson, P. H. McNames and J. S. Newell were appointed viewers to review the same. The Commissioners have been engaged most of the time while in session auditing accounts, of which there are a great number.

BASE BALL.—The match game of base ball between the Pioneer Base Ball Club of this city and the Clackamas Base Ball Club of Oregon City was set for to-day, and ... the steamer Senator will go to Oregon City this morning to bring the Club down—starting from Oregon City at 2 o'clock—but the prospects indicate that the weather will be unfavorable, so much so that the game cannot be played. The Pioneers are anxious to reciprocate the favors bestowed by the Oregon City Club, and if possible the game will be played. The Clackamas Club is a good one, and if the game does come off it will be a very interesting one. This game will close the season. We hope that during the next year many new Clubs will be established throughout the State.

CANNED GOODS. Some interest has been excited in our city among those interested, in regard to the new law requiring stamps on all canned goods. There seems to be a decided difference of opinion in regard to it. Some time ago Cutting & Co. of San Francisco received from the Department of Internal Revenue at Washington instructions, instructing them to stamp all canned goods. Accordingly everybody stamped—and swore. About the 20th ultimo, Ross, Dempster & Co., of San Francisco, received a telegram from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, at Washington, to the effect that canned goods, on which the 6 per cent. revenue tax was paid prior to October 1st, do not require stamps. We know of no official authority for this statement, and give it for what it is worth.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUSTICE.—Friday, Nov. 9th, 1866.—United States vs. Hanna et al; action on official bond. Defendant answered, claiming set off against the Government for an amount greater than the amount sued for; and applied for continuance to enable him to get a transcript of the books of the Department at Washington, to show that the items of the set off had been presented to the officers of the Department, and by them disallowed. Motion granted and the costs to abide the event of the action. Dolph for the United States; Page for defendant. Adjourned to meet to-day at ten o'clock A. M.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—At a regular meeting of Crystal Lodge No. 15, I. O. G. T., of Oregon, held on the evening of the 5th inst., the following officers were installed for the term ending January 31st, 1867: John H. Marsh, W. C. T.; Miss Florence Skinner, W. R. H. S.; Miss Ada Skinner, W. L. H. S.; Miss Mary Skinner, W. V. T.; E. R. Nixon, W. F. S.; R. E. Eskildson, W. M.; M. D. Nixon, W. D. M.; Miss Maria DeWitt, W. I. G.; A. W. Tarleton, W. O. G.; W. J. Snodgrass, P. W. C. T.; Arthur Gray, W. C.

... At a regular meeting of Portland Lodge the officers were installed for the quarter ending January 31st, 1867: W. H. Pope, W. C. T.; Miss E. J. York, W. R. H. S.; Miss C. A. Corey, W. L. H. S.; Miss Icillis H. Anderson, W. V. T.; J. O. Fox, W. F. S.; Miss Irene Gilroy, W. T.; Charles Hillenbrand, W. M.; Miss Ruth Ramsey, W. D. M.; David Cole, W. I. G.; G. Hugh Hines, W. O. G.; W. H. Brackett, P. W. C. T.; Miss Mary Patterson, W. A. S.; James B. Upton, W. C.

DETAINED.—The steamer Tenas was detained until half past 5 o'clock yesterday for repairs on her crank. She was towed from her wharf to the Willamette Iron Works where the necessary repairs were made. She then returned to her wharf for her passengers.

... PRODUCE.—The steamer Senator brought down last evening 1,100 sks flour, 33 bxs apples, 82 gunny bags, 6 bxs eggs, 1 bale wool socks, 6 bales woolen goods and 39 sks feed.

THE HUNT.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt brought last evening from the Dalles but a small number of passengers, among them we notice a number of Chinamen.

... —Last night the messenger of Wells, Fargo & Co. brought from the North $25,000 in treasure.

"The nimble quarter is better than the slow half," is the motto at Barman Brothers. Go there and be convinced.

LADIES' HATS.—We take pleasure in noticing the great improvement in the appearance of the men who walk the streets of Portland, especially their head coverings. The city of Portland, in addition to its many improvements, may now be justly proud of having a branch of the largest hat manufacturing establishment of the Pacific coast. Meussdorffer & Bro. can furnish hats in any style and quantity, and at any price desired.

STATE ITEMS.

The real estate of Washington county, as shown by the Assessor's books, is valued at $621,396. The personal property of the county is assessed at $396,195. The indebtedness of the people of the county is given at $138,... Net valuation of property, real and personal, $1,879,000.

At a recent camp meeting in the Roseburg circuit of the M. E. Church, sixteen persons united with the church, and several other conversions took place.

L. F. Carter, formerly of Oregon City, once a member of the Legislature and Speaker of the House, and for some time chief clerk in the Surveyor General's office, left here this morning to assume the office of Surveyor General of Idaho, to which he was appointed a short time since.

There is a report circulating, with what foundation we do not know, that Capt. Medorum Crawford has been removed from the Revenue Collectorship, and that J. K. Kelly has been appointed to this place. There is also a report that Milton Shannon of Salem, has been appointed to one of the Land offices at Oregon City.

REBEL ORGANIZATIONS.—The following is a letter from New Orleans to the New York Tribune, dated October 5th:

Important disclosures will soon be officially made public in reference to secret rebel societies, extending to the entire South. These organizations have branch Circles in New York City and the West; that in New York is said to number 3,000, principally composed of men who served in the rebel army. Each Circle has a different name. Some are known as the "True Sons of the South," others as the "Knights of Arabia," and all are well armed with the most improved weapons, ready at a moment's notice, should a favorable opportunity arrive, to renew the struggle for the "lost cause." One of the chief members of the organization, now in prison, is said to have made important disclosures.

NEW SYSTEM OF COINAGE.—The Philadelphia Telegraph says:—A new system of small coinage is now under consideration by the Government, and will in all probability be adopted. The proposed new cent is to be made of nickel, the same as at present, but the center of the coin has a raised star, the nucleus of which is represented by a hole through the coin. The two-cent pieces have two perforated stars, and the three-cent coins three. Thus, by holding either denomination to the light, or by touching them so as to feel the holes, the value of a piece of money is unmistakably known. The half-dimes are a larger coin of better metal, but are to be distinguished by one and two perforated stars.

If you have any trouble of the chest, throat, or lungs, use Newell's Pulmonary Syrup.

Bar Meeting.—The members of the Bar, resident and visiting, are requested to attend an adjourned meeting this day at the City Recorder's Office at 2 o'clock P. M.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works:

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866.

To the OREGON IRON WORKS:

Gentlemen:—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

Consumption like the Rattle-Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the Lungs. If this be neglected, and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, Death will be the result. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will heal all the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter. Thus stopping the cough and prevent fatal Consumption. DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.

There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach's sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.

They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhoea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Barnes' Magnolia Water.

A toilet delight! The ladies' treasure and gentleman's boon! The "sweetest thing" and largest quantity. Manufactured from the rich Southern Magnolia. Used for bathing the face and person, to render the skin soft and fresh, to prevent eruptions, to perfume clothing, &c.

It overcomes the unpleasant odor of perspiration.
It removes redness, tan, blotches, &c.
It cures nervous headache and allays inflammation.
It cools, softens and adds delicacy to the skin.
It yields a subdued and lasting perfume.
It cures musquito bites and stings of insects.
It contains no material injurious to the skin.
It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Try the Magnolia Water once and you will use no other Cologne, Perfumery, or Toilet Water afterwards.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING.
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.
E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "LYON'S" PURE EXTRACT. Take no other.

CAUTION—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. LYON, and the private stamp of DEMAS, BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands, here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

By the Sea.

BY FRANCES FULLER VICTOR

Blue is the mist on the mountains
  White is the fog on the sea,
Ruby and gold is the sunset
  And Bertha is waiting for me

Down on the lonesome sand beach,
  Her eyes as blue as the mist
Her brow as white as the sea-fog,
  Bertha, whose mouth I have kissed

Bertha, whose lips are like rubies,
  Whose hair is like coiled gold
Whose shy rare smile is tenderer
  Than any legend of old

One morn, one noon one sunset,
  Must pass before we meet
O wind and sail bear steady on,
  And bring me to her feet!

The morn rose pale and sullen,
  The noon was still and dun,
Across the storm at sunset
  Came the boom of a signal gun

Who treads the lonesome-sand beach
  With wet, disordered hair,
With garments tangled with sea-weed,
  And cheeks more pale than fair?

O blue-eyed, white-browed maiden,
  He will keep love's tryst no more,
His bark sailed safely into port
  But on the heaven ward shore

Destruction of the Palestro.

Shakspeare has told us how a good deed shines in a naughty world No wonder that it shines brightly, and casts its golden ray afar! Civilization is, for the most part, so dull, and men, for the most part, are so deeply plunged in the slough of sordid pursuits, that a noble act, when it does chance to be done, shocks the whole fabric of things, and momentarily wakes us out of profound slumber. The thought comes to mind, as we muse over the story, recently told in foreign papers, of the loss of the Palestro, at the battle of Lissa. The Palestro was an Italian war steamer, and one of the fleet that encountered the Austrian vessels, in the only considerable naval conflict that signalized the late war in Europe. She carried four Armstrong guns, of heavy calibre, and a crew of two hundred and fifty men, and was commanded by Captain Luigi Alfredo Cappellini.

The list of her crew has not attracted our notice, but it ought to be preserved, and we cannot doubt that it will be. All were brave men; braver this age has not seen. The circumstances under which their heroism was manifested must be memorable. It was at the most critical moment in the battle of Lissa, that the Palestro went to the assistance of her consort, the Re d'Italia, then badly pressed by the Austrian foe. Her maneuver, however, resulted in peril and disaster to herself. Three of the enemy's vessels surrounded her, and made a simultaneous attack.

But the Palestro was not found wanting. Against great odds, and under circumstances of great danger, she fought bravely and firmly, striking on every side, and keeping at bay two ironclads and a third vessel that was partially plated. For a long time the conflict continued, till at length it was discovered that a pile of coals on board the Palestro had taken fire. Lieutenant Viterbo with a party of men rushed to this new point of peril, the action meantime being continued with unabated vigor. But Viterbo soon discovered that the fire would prevail, and reported thus to the Captain. So dense a volume of smoke now enwrapped the doomed Italian ship that the Austrians, deeming her conquered, ceased firing, drew off, and left her to her fate. The fate was the grandest that a naval officer could wish. On seeing that his vessel must inevitably perish, Captain Cappellini ordered the removal of the wounded to a neighboring ship, and directed the wounded to save themselves as best they might. To Viterbo he said: "It is my duty to remain with my ship." "If so," said the Lieutenant, "you shall not remain alone." Then turning to the crew he added: "Men of the Palestro, the Captain orders all to save themselves on board the Independenza and the Governolo. He will himself remain with the Palestro." The response of the sailors was instantaneous

"We will stay with him! Viva d'Italia!" And what they promised they performed. The wounded were first removed. Then, directing his prow against the nearest Austrian vessel, Cappellini ordered the full power of the engines to be put on, and so determined to sell his life as dearly as possible. We can imagine the scene—the canopy of smoke, shot through with streaks of flame, the din air, the surrounding ships belching fire missiles of death, and the awful rush of the doomed Palestro speeding to her desperate death. But it was fated that the gallant Italian should perish without a foe to share her fate. Before she could reach and strike the Austrian, the fire gained her magazine, and vessel, crew, and the heroic commander were blown into the air together. Fabrizi and nineteen of the sailors fell into the water and were picked up and saved. Viterbo also fell unharmed into the sea, but was there crushed by a heavy piece of iron that fell on him. Cappellini perished in the explosion, a martyr to the old soldierly enthusiasm which bids the hero to die, but never to surrender. To the sensible men of the world, such an action must appear to be gratuitous folly; but there is, happily, a higher standard for the judgment of human conduct, than that which men of the world can recognize—a standard which rates noble impulse above prudential motives; which appreciates and honors Thermopylæ, and which, as long as noble heart beats responsive to heroic deeds, will cherish the memory of Luigi Cappellini and his band of heroes."

The Late Mormon Murder.

The Vedette of the 25th contains the following additional particulars

The late Dr. J. K Robinson, whose assassination last Monday has sent a thrill of horror to the heart of every law abiding citizen of this city, was a native of Calais, Maine, and was in his thirty-second year. He came to Utah from California in the spring of 1864 as an Assistant Surgeon of the United States Volunteers, and reporting to General Connor, was sent to Camp Connor at Soda Springs, Idaho, but during the following Winter was ordered to Salt Lake, and took charge of the Hospital at Camp Douglas and remained on duty there and in this city until last Winter, when he was mustered out of the service, having a record in the army which stands without a blemish. After leaving the service of his country, Dr. Robinson settled down in this city, and engaged in the practice of his profession, in which he had taken the lead among the practicing physicians of Salt Lake, and has occupied an equally prominent position in the advancement of all religious and educational schemes of the city. He was one of the most intimate friends and the room mate of the Rev. Norman McLeod, and co-operated with him in all his measures for the advancement of the social condition of the people of Utah. In this capacity he had, up to the time of his death, filled with great credit the position of Superintendent in the Gentile Sunday School. On the afternoon of Rev. Norman McLeod's departure for the East, in March last, he united Dr. J. K. Robinson in the bonds of matrimony with Miss Kay, the accomplished daughter of the late Dr Kay. From that time to this the Doctor has been pursuing a legitimate business by practicing his profession, and no citizen of Salt Lake stood higher, morally or socially. We have never heard of his having a personal enemy, or that he ever infringed upon the legal or moral rights of any man living, and the only conceivable cause for his assassination is the fact that he saw fit to contest the title of a piece of land with the city in the Supreme Court. No other cause can be assigned, for had the object of the assassin been plunder they could have obtained it, as the Doctor had upon his person a large sum of money and a valuable gold watch, which had been untouched when the body was found.

Dr Robinson had one brother, who is a Professor in the City College of San Francisco, and who left that city yesterday for Salt Lake.

The Vedette says

The Coroner's inquest on the body of Dr Robinson did not elicit any important fact yesterday, except that the police had made but a feeble attempt to ferret out the murderers. Governor Weller and Marshall have been engaged to assist Maj Hempstead and Stout in the examination, which will be resumed in the City Hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon The witnesses examined yesterday were nearly all policemen.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.—The following circular, lately received by the Postmaster of Woodland, Yolo county, California, explains itself The spicy reply, says the News, is rather weighty on the supporters of "my policy." After the receipt of the "thirty pieces of silver" referred to, no doubt somebody will hear the cock crow

WASHINGTON, Oct 1, 1866

To the Postmaster, Woodland, Yolo county, California—Sir: The Resident Executive Committee appointed by the late Convention at Philadelphia propose to circulate, at as early a day as possible, a large number of documents calculated to enlighten the public mind on the great questions now at issue From your official relations with the President, we presume you will cheerfully aid his friends and supporters in the momentous contest in which they are now engaged One method of doing this will be by a reasonable contribution of yourself and friends to aid in meeting the expenses necessarily incurred by us in this matter Should you do this, please forward the amount by draft or postal order to Charles Knap, Esq, the Chairman of the Finance Committee, who will at once acknowledge the receipt thereof. If such acknowledgment is not duly received, please inform us Do not pay one dollar to any traveling agent of the Committee. We make these requests to avoid fraud and imposition By order of the Resident Executive Committee

C KNAP, Chairman
C MASON, Corresponding Secretary

[MR CUNNINGHAM'S REPLY]

WOODLAND, Cal Oct. 26, 1866

Chas Knap and C Mason—Messrs Your circular has just been received, and in response I send you 'thirty pieces of silver,' (five cent pieces) the full amount paid to Judas Iscariot nearly nineteen hundred years ago, and the earnest desire of myself, and friends is that these 'thirty pieces of silver' may have the same effect on the President and the supporters of his policy, that gift did on Judas Yours, etc,

THE DEATH OF AUGUSTUS N DICKENS.—It is not unknown to many citizens of Chicago, that a brother of the celebrated novelist, Charles Dickens had made Chicago his residence for a number of years past. Those who enjoyed the acquaintance of Augustus N Dickens, as well as those who have not, will be pained to learn of his death by consumption on Thursday night last. Dickens has suffered for some months past from that complaint, and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was born at Landport, Portsmouth, England, at or about the year 1826 He was the youngest and favorite brother of the great novelist, and the nom de plume of "Boz," which the latter afterwards assumed, was but the pet name of his younger brother during his infant days. Dickens at first followed the footsteps of his brother Charles, and was for a long time connected with the press of the city of London. During the Crimean war he was the correspondent in the field of the London News For some reason not given, he shortly after the close of the war left that profession and emigrated to this country He at first established himself at Amboy, Lee county, in this State, where he purchased some land and at last became a merchant He was, however, unsuccessful in business, and during the visit of Richard Cobden in this country in 1860, was induced by the latter to enter the office of the Illinois Central Railroad Land Department, where he has since remained as corresponding clerk Dickens bore a striking personal resemblance to his more celebrated brother, and was like him a most genial, companionable and devoted friend. Before coming to America, he married the daughter of J. W. Phillips, a retired merchant of London, by whom he has had several children, three of whom with their mother survive to mourn his loss. Dickens, during his residence in Chicago, has borne an excellent reputation, and has enjoyed the love and respect of all who knew him. His wife is a most estimable lady, and will receive the profound sympathy of all friends, in her great affliction.

ARMY RESIGNATIONS.—A Washington correspondent writes

Considerable of a breeze is stirring among the officers of the regular army, who conceive that their claims to precedence and rank have been overlooked by the War Department in the new organization of the army Maj.-Gen Torbert, of cavalry fame, has tendered his resignation as Major in the regular service, and it is understood that others are likely to do the same It is mentioned that Maj.-Gen Ricketts of the Sixty Corps, feels very sore at being tendered nothing above a Lieutenant-Colonelcy. The several Boards for the examination of officers to be appointed in the regular service, which were ordered to meet at Chicago, New York and Washington, October 1, are now in session, and the new appointees are appearing before them in accordance with the act of Congress reorganizing the army The Board which meets in New York examines all the officers east of the State of Ohio for the infantry arm of the service. The Board which meets at Chicago examines all officers for the infantry arm of the service from the State of Ohio and States west of that. The Board which meets at Washington examines all officers for the cavalry arm of the service. Another Board has been ordered to convene at San Francisco, November 15, to examine officers for either arm of the service, who may be appointed from the Pacific coast.

MR. SEWARD ON SEPARATION.—A writer in Blackwood's Magazine, giving an account of his observations in this country, says that Mr. Seward addressed him in these words before any of the States attempted to withdraw from the Union:

"When the disruption comes we shall set the Old World a glorious example. We shall show it the superiority of our republican system over the effects of monarchical governments of Europe. We shall do what they would never dream of doing—we shall separate without bloodshed."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P M.,
Nov 9, 1866

In our own city trade we notice no marked change Our Columbia river trade will soon be closed, although considerable amounts of general merchandise is still being sent up for the supply of the Dalles, Walla Walla, Umatilla and LaGrande. The appearances indicate that in future our mining towns in the North will supply themselves with Flour and Grain. We notice this week another fine flouring mill being constructed at the Oregon Iron Works in this city for parties in Grand Ronde Valley We have the past season shipped but little Flour and Grain and in future must look elsewhere for a market. The North is no longer dependent upon us, and will in future easily supply themselves

Much complaint is made of the pressure in the Money Market. This is no doubt occasioned by the high price of Gold in New York, and our merchants have no doubt taken advantage of the demand for money in San Francisco and met their obligations before they were due, or placed to their credit considerable sums with which to take advantage of the market and buy for cash All have no doubt noticed the great demand in New York for Gold It is well known that for some time past Gold has been loaning there as high as 1 per cent, per day Gold, like any other commodity, will seek the highest market, besides large sums are absorbed in Wheat operations, probably larger than ever before, and money is still in demand to be used in this channel

Produce is coming into the city in quantities fully equal to the demand, and the prices realized are fair Large amounts of Flour are being received from the Upper Willamette The steamers Montana and Pacific, for San Francisco took large amounts of Flour, Bacon and Apples. The steamer Fidelitor takes to Victoria a good cargo of Flour, Wheat, Bacon, Apples &c

In regard to the Wheat Market in San Francisco the Bulletin says

"The weekly receipts of wheat at this port for this season have undoubtedly reached their maximum figures With a firm and advancing market here part as in the country evince little disposition to send forward supplies, being able, for the most part, to hold on to their stock and thus take advantage of any prospective rise in quotations The general opinion is that our daily receipts from this time forward will show a manifest decline, though at present they are 240 ℔ cent larger than they were at this time last year Nothing but a pressing want of money or of faith in the maintenance of present figures it is believed, will induce any further shipments to this city in large quantities Meanwhile, although there are upwards of 1,000,000 sks of grain in this city there is very little that is valuable in the market. Parties holding wheat in warehouses having obtained cash advances on the same, are very firm in their views and a little delicate about naming any reasonable price at which they will part with their stock, so anxious are they to obtain the highest price which the market may be supposed to reach between this and the 1st of January Prices have appreciated fully 10@15c during the past ten days, as a good round lot of choice could not be obtained now, probably under $1 90 ℔ 100lbs Present rates are likely to be maintained for some time to come and in the event of a dry winter which is impending the possibilities of the future an advance may be confidently predicted At this time last year, under the influence of the Australian demand strictly prime Wheat commanded $2 ℔ 100lbs The surplus for export however, was much smaller at that time than now Our receipts of Wheat for the week ending last evening were $69 ... sks, against 45 242 sks for the corresponding week last year Since July 1st we have received 2,300 652 sks against 873 761 sks for the same time last year The exports for the week were 78,69? sks, against 5 700 sks for the corresponding week in 1865 Our exports since July 1st aggregate 932,7.. sks same time last year 160,740 sks Increase this year, 806 032 sks Included in the exports for the past week were four cargoes to Great Britain aggregating 67 153 sks three to Australia of 8 444 sks, and one to New York of 17,220 sks

A recapitulation presents the following result

	Cargoes	100 lb sks	Value
Great Britain	50	635 306	$1,024 156
Austria	1	137 608	221 452
Eastern Ports	10	163 754	270 649
China	12	48,357	65 482
Totals	73	984 868	$1,581 018

Thus we have cleared in a little over three months 73 vessels with nearly 1,000 000 sks or 49 243½ tons of Wheat valued at $1 500,000 in round numbers Of these cargoes the number still supposed to be afloat is 59 aggregating 908,700 sks, valued at $1,445 332 This is a large interest to have at sea at once, embraced in one single article

A number of our merchants are placed in a quandary caused by the previous decision of the Internal Revenue Collector, noticed some time ago in the telegram to Cutting & Co, saying that "no canned goods can be sold without stamps" The Bulletin says

By a recent decision of the Department at Washington no canned goods manufactured prior to Oct 1st require to be stamped We predicted this result in a paragraph published in the Bulletin October 2d Meanwhile, however, our merchants have stamped all the case goods sold by them, determined to be on the safe side The money thus thrown away in this city during the past month is very large some firms having paid out fully $1,000 in stamps which have been placed on large quantities of goods in advance. The cost of the stamps is the smallest part of the matter The expense and trouble of placing them on the goods has been great. Our merchants justly complain of these arbitrary decisions and reversals of decisions, and are becoming tired of these interpretations, or rather misinterpretations of what are generally regarded as good common sense rules

Our merchants are willing to still stamp goods as they are sold, but it is certainly a hardship to be forced to open the original packages for the purpose of stamping them before they are sold. Some of the merchants in this city received canned goods on the steamer Oriflamme which were stamped in accordance with the previous ruling On the last steamer they received goods of the same kind and from the same parties which were were without stamps This is certainly strong corroborative evidence in support of the article quoted from the Bulletin The Internal Revenue officers here have received no later instructions in the matter, and hold that the goods must be stamped.

CIRCULAR

To the Officers and Soldiers Oregon Volunteers

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SALEM Oct 23, 1866

BY RECENT ACTS OF CONGRESS ALL OFFICERS of the Volunteer Service who were in Commission March 3d 1865 and subsequently mustered out after April 9 h 1865 are entitled to three months extra pay proper

Enlisted men are entitled to additional bounty in certain cases, by Acts of Congress of July 28th 1866 and the following rules and regulations together with the form of application adopted by the War Department are published for the guidance and benefit of all concerned

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28 1866

WAR DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, September 15 1866

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made shall be classified by regiments, battalions or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received nor is he entitled to receive from the United States under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28 1866 more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor of all claims presented under the law in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards, etc, and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war" who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law

EDWIN M STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law

HENRY STANBERY,
September 15, 1866. Attorney General

The foregoing rules and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

By order of the Secretary of War

E D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE NEW LIGHT!

DANFORD'S

Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity A Safe Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney and without unpleasant odor while in use That fruitful source of expense trouble and annoyance the chimney is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided, it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost It will burn when turned down to a taper light ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene corner of Morrison and First streets.
